DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claim 1, drawn to a method for replicating a monolayer, classified in class 427, subclass 258.
 - II. Claims 2-11, drawn to a method for replicating a monolayer, classified in class 427, subclass 256.
 - III. Claim 12, drawn to a method for assembling a multilayer film, classified in class 427, subclass 258.
 - IV. Claim 13, drawn to a method for replicating a monolayer, classified in class 427, subclass 258.
 - V. Claim 14, drawn to a method for replicating a two-dimensional patterned structure, classified in class 427, subclass 258.
 - VI. Claim 15, drawn to a method for forming a patterned layer of metal on a surface, classified in class 427, subclass 191.
 - VII. Claims 16-21, drawn to a method for replicating a multi-component pattern, classified in class 427, subclass 258.
 - VIII. Claim 22, drawn to a family of molecules, classified in class 520, subclass various.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions II-VII and VIII are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different designs, modes of operation, and effects (MPEP § 802.01 and § 806.06). In the instant case, the different inventions are not disclosed as capable of use together and have different designs, modes of operation, and effects. Inventions II-VII are methods of coating a surface, while invention VIII is merely a discrete molecule. Consequently, the two are unrelated

3. Inventions I and VIII are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product. See MPEP § 806.05(h). In the instant case, the product can be used in other and materially different processes: (i) a process in which the molecules are assembled and polymerized in solution, absent a substrate; or (ii) as starting/intermediate materials in further chemical synthesis.

4. Inventions I-VII are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different designs, modes of operation, and effects (MPEP § 802.01 and § 806.06). In the instant case, the different inventions are not disclosed as capable of use together and have different modes of operation and different effects. Specifically, the methods of these groups are performed differently and involve different compounds (i.e., metal particles vs. monomer units with cross-linker arms).

5. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

6. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and the inventions require a different field of search (see MPEP § 808.02), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

7. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

8. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
